I have done my homework with the mysql documentation, and I've read most of those answers. But I didn't succeed in getting two tables to get a JOIN, I want to use just LOAD DATA INFILE, but am confused by the syntax and design of MYSQL. I know that I should give the file path of the file, and the table name as parameters. But I don't know how to design this in the file, and I don't know what I'm doing. The file I'm trying to load is a csv file with the two tables in it. The first one has a single column and it is sorted. The second one has multiple columns and it isn't. Can someone help me make the file with what I'm trying to achieve? I tried to load the file in phpmyadmin and just make a single column that I use as a Join key, but it didn't work So I'm wondering if it's the best way to join the tables with LOAD DATA INFILE. I think someone can help me with this? A: You can't do this with LOAD DATA INFILE. It only works on MyISAM tables. LOAD DATA INFILE 'datafile.csv' IGNORE INTO TABLE foo IGNORE just ignores the errors and doesn't write anything into your table. From the MySQL documentation This statement loads data from an external file into a table defined in a database. This statement is useful when importing a large number of rows into a table that you do not want to create on the fly because of size constraints or other temporary storage considerations. The FILE and LOAD_FILE parameters are optional, but
