

have NO ERRORS! i checked it, so i don't have any more errors! all the same it's the only update i have after updating from the web portal. i have found this in the "Complaint management" because i was tryign to find a solution for my issue A: To match addresses to similar data, the fastest way I can think of is to use Nominatim. You have to download the data files from Nominatim directly (note that it doesn't come with OSM data), and they will be usable as a postgis-enabled map. A DFT study of the binding of sulforaphane to the copper(I) complex of histidine-labeled arylating and alkylating drug transporters. Copper-coordination complexes represent a class of cellular "transporters" that bind organic cations and exhibit anticancer activity. As a consequence of the reactive mechanism of binding, divalent Cu(2+) binds to a ligand set that can be terminated in several ways by halogens, thiols, or amino acids. Each of these ligands can also be conjugated to a ligand that can be used as a reporter tag, by reacting it with an arylating or alkylating drug. Selective alkylation of the drug transporter should result in the loss of its anticancer activity. Consequently, alkylating and arylating drugs are complementary in their ability to act as ligands that can be used to modulate the binding of Cu(2+) by a series of experimentally validated model compounds. To evaluate binding of a new isothiocyanate prototype ligand to the Cu(1+) ligand, binding constants have been determined by means of density functional theory (DFT) calculations. It's a good time to be among the elite of the smartphone market. We're not talking about the latest, cool, ultra-thin models or those under $100. We're talking about the next generation of ultra-thin, ultra-expensive, unbreakable, non-replaceable, no-knock-back, no-spill, waterproof and magnetic-laden devices from Nokia, Sony Ericsson and Samsung. Smartphones that can do anything. But here's the rub: the market's not yet ready to love them back. The race to market Nokia has spent

I am learning Laravel. My question is about the "user" data in the model. I know that $user = Auth::user(); and return $this->user(); are same. But are they not absolutely the same? If no, then what is the difference between this line and other lines in the model? Thank you very much! A: $user = Auth::user(); $this->user() returns an object, like $user = User::find(Auth::user()->id); $this->getUser() returns the fields of the user object, like $user = Auth::user(); $user->name $this->user() is the most appropriate in most cases when you need to access the user object without calling its methods. $this->getUser() is the best when you want to access the fields of the user object.
