The application offers users the ability to upload selected files from a local desktop to a remote FTP server. The program uses a virtual folder on your local desktop as a repository to store user files and settings. The virtual folder can be located in any folder on your computer. You can select the files to be uploaded or you can receive a complete listing of files to be transferred. The program creates a remote FTP access point on your desktop in order to transfer the files. You can specify a username and password that you want to associate with the FTP server on your local desktop. After you have created a remote FTP access point, you can use a standard FTP software to transfer the files from your virtual folder.
