Well, how you can get this version of PC Manager Sixxaxis under Â·Q: loop through all files of directory I have a folder with 50 files in it. (exe and svc). I am interested in looping through all the files, but it will take longer than the expected time. If I break the loop after 10 seconds, I have to wait 5 minutes and then remove all the files. Folder has (number of files).txt SVC1.txt SVC2.txt SVC3.txt SVC4.txt etc.. I use following code. dirFiles = dir(pwd); while numFiles > 0 current_file = dirFiles(1); current_fileName = fileparts(current_file); %run fileName current_file = []; end How can I run my script which will loop through all 50 files and remove them after 10 seconds? A: You should use a count to detect the end of the current run. If it is 10, you stop. If it is one less, you run the next 10. If it is one more, you do the same again. A more fancy way to do it is to use a set and a counter to detect if it is enough to do the job. if num == 10000
