Credit: Aljoscha Wittmann/GettyImages Today, it's easy to peruse the inter-webs to find out what's going on in the world around us. YouTube, Spotify, Google News and Twitter make it so easy to see what people care about, but little do we realize just how much time we spend being bombarded with new information that we simply don't have the time nor the willpower to consider. With so much new info, it's easy to feel overwhelmed, and that's exactly what Venn diagrams, a simple way to display quantities are, are meant to evoke.
