* Design : Some designers and concept artists are known to use Photoshop for one of two purposes: Either they are creating a digital rendition of an illustration to be transferred to a desired print medium (such as the screen, the print, or a product), or they are actually transferring a finished piece of art to the desired print medium. * Illustration : In an all-too-common practice, some artists have taken to using Photoshop as a way to experiment with new, or to develop new ideas. Photos are often taken in a studio and then brought to Photoshop to be retouched, colored, or otherwise altered, but the power of Photoshop has not been lost on those who use digital cameras.

How to Make a Pop-Up Book (Part 2) From childhood to adult, every person has enjoyed making pop-ups. The tricks for making a pop-up is not very difficult to do, but require some patience and practice. It is considered a toy and is used in the classroom, but also can be used as a learning aid. There are various tutorials available online that give instructions for making a pop-up book. For those who love to read pop-ups, here are the steps to make a pop-up book with Photoshop Elements. 1. Create a New Document Take your image to open and import it into Photoshop Elements to make it full-sized. Open Photoshop Elements and navigate to File → New → Document. On the left-hand navigation bar, choose File → Open. In the Open dialog box, select images or video from your computer's local hard drive, or browse for a folder on your computer to locate the images or video files. Select the image file. Click Open. After the image is open, you may notice there is no way to zoom in to a specific portion of the image. For the pop-up to look professional, you need to zoom in so that it can be larger than 5,600 x 3,100 pixels. 2. Resize the Photo The size of the photo will determine how big your pop-up will look. You can view the size of the pop-up by clicking Window → Show Zoom Controls. Select Image Size to change the image size. You can choose from Sides: 1:1 Square (18.4:18.4) or 2:3 Square (19.6:12.5) pixels. I recommend that you use the Sides: 1:1 Square (18.4:18.4) pixel setting. If you are using a Pixel 2 phone, make the image size 1920 x 1080 pixels. 3. Adjust the Black Level of the Photo Select Layer → New Adjustment Layer → Curves. Change the Black Level (Left) to -22. 4. Prepare for the Pop-up Prepare the image for the pop-up by clicking the canvas area (located at the bottom of the view). Select Layer → New Adjustment Layer → Distort → Envelope Distort. Change the Direction 05a79cecff

Q: Symfony: If controller returns a Response that is not an array In a controller I have the following query:

$this->entityManager->find($entityName, $entityId); $tmp = $this->getDoctrine()->getManager()->newQuery(); $result = $tmp->select('c') ->from($entityName, 'c') ->where($tmp->expr()->eq('c.id', $entityId); $this->getDoctrine()->getManager()->flush(); This is fine. The query works and gets results. But I'm confused as to what to do if $entityName is not an entity and so I cannot use $this->getDoctrine()->getManager()->newQuery() and the entity manager is not available. How would one return a response from a query in this instance? Obviously I can make the controller return a response and then dump the query information to it, but is there a 'direct' way to do it? A: $entityName is an Entity? You can use $result = $tmp->select('c')->from($entityName, 'c')->where($tmp->expr()->eq('c.id', $entityId); So what you can do is: if (!$entityName instanceof Entity) throw new \InvalidArgumentException("entityName should be an instance of Entity"); $manager = $this->getDoctrine()->getManager(); $entity = $manager->getRepository($entityName)->find($entityId); if (!$entity instanceof Entity) throw new \InvalidArgumentException("entityName should be an instance of Entity"); $tmp = $manager->newQuery(); $tmp->select('c') ->from($entityName, 'c') ->where($tmp->expr()->eq('c.id', $entityId); $result = $tmp->getResult(); $this->render('path_to_view', [
