So far, so good, she has none of them. " Zeus has to be the gods when they are looking for the last. All know the higher gods are evil and corrupt, therefore they preferred to choose a lesser god that is willing to turn the current events to their benefit and beyond! They have known since before they knew anything that their judgment on the world's heart and soul would be called to be the deciding factor. But they asked around, to make sure this lesser god is up to the task. After years of waiting the time came to do what Gods do: "And now that we have him, it is time to find a'savior' for the world!" "And it's so close to finishing the job!" "Now I must ask for something that you would all expect. I need a monster that needs to be punished!" "What I have does not fit with that. We need someone who cares for the people." "We need someone who is up for the tough jobs. Right now, the world needs a nice young man. But I know what kind of man you like!" "You are not good enough. Nonstop Taboo Meet and Fuck 15 June. 3 Apr Meet and fuck Avatar The Last Cockbender wallpaper. Avatar The Last Cockbender.Q: Why isn't data being entered into the Textbox? The following code should fill a textbox with the current day of the week, and a button should fill a textbox with the current day of the month. Here's the code: Private Sub Button1_Click(sender As Object, e As EventArgs) Handles Button1.Click Dim Today As DateTime = DateTime.Today Dim String1 = Format(Today, "dddd") Dim String2 = Format(Today.Day, "dd") TxtLabel7.Text = String1 TxtLabel8.Text = String2 End Sub The problem is, nothing appears on the screen. What have I done wrong? A: You have to make the variables available as public. Otherwise they can't be called from another module or even another class. Also you should use String1 and String2 as they are strings. And the Text property is for displaying a value, not saving it. In other words, since they are TextBox properties, they should be Public TextBox variables and not Private String variables. You should also pass your controls to the method to fill in their values: Private Sub Button1_Click(sender As Object, e As EventArgs) Handles Button1.Click Dim Today As DateTime = DateTime.Today TxtLabel7.Text = Format(Today, "dddd") TxtLabel8.Text = Format(Today.Day, "dd") End Sub Don't you also want to set the Text property of the other label? Private Sub Button1_Click(sender As Object, e As EventArgs) Handles Button1.Click TxtLabel7.Text = Format(Today, "dddd") TxtLabel8.Text = Format(Today.Day, "dd") 6d1f23a050
