Å.Q: How to specify libpath when installing from source? How do I specify libpaths when installing from source? In particular, I need to use LDFLAGS and LD_LIBRARY_PATH, but I don't seem to be able to do it when building OCaml from source. I can do it by specifying them in a./configure run, but then I have to do that each time I make or rebuild. Is there any solution that's applicable to my problem? Edit: I'm building for FreeBSD. A: You can check in your compiler manual, or in the man page of the compiler you are using (ocamlc in my case), which variable takes the library path arguments. In the man page of ocamlc is a paragraph to set the library path. A: You can set CPPFLAGS`

"There's no question that I love to get silly like that," Amber Rose said of the record's sound. "We actually did a collaboration, so I was rocking up on a song with Rick Ross that's gonna come out in the next few months." "You know 6d1f23a050
