Hosted by Enoch Powell, the program covered issues in national and world news. The show premiered on CBC at 7:00 p.m. (9:00 p.m. ET) on July 1, 2006, and was subsequently cancelled on December 7, 2007. Airing on CBC's CanadaTV (CTV) digital subchannel, the program was available on cable systems for approximately three weeks after its initial airing on CBC. The series was produced for the CBC by FremantleMedia. Host, guests and production staff The show was hosted by Enoch Powell (pictured at right), who was succeeded by Susan Whelan, who also played a fictional character, Ben Adams on the soap opera Another World from 1996 to 1999, and later on the soap opera One Life to Live. Stephen Hawking and David Suzuki were featured as guest guests. Cancellation On January 23, 2007, CTV Newsroom, the CBC's newscast division, reported that the CBC had decided to not renew the Enoch Show. After the announcement, a group of Enoch Show fans created a website, regretfulenoch.com. In addition to on-air notice, the website features a message board, and a blog updating the news of Enoch Show's cancellation. The blog, established on February 7, 2008, is called "the Enoch Show Fandom Blog". Fans were also given an opportunity to bid for an autographed promotional postcard, and others were given the opportunity to meet with Enoch at a live event in Toronto on April 27, 2008.
