I want to use one color scheme for the whole project. It should apply to the raster layer and the vector layers. I already tried the Settings > Options > Preferences but there I can only select a specific layer. Is there any better way? A: I'm not sure if this is exactly what you're looking for, but I've written a plugin called Style Manager which allows you to create a custom color scheme for a single project, which you can use for whichever layers you like.
