Feiying Simulator Launcher Update !!HOT!!

we're working with microsoft to port over the xna game studio controls to the xna version of the launcher. however, we need your help making this possible. if you have used these controls in your games, please submit the source code you used, as well as the tools you used to create your games (if any) to us. we will then compile a list of recommended controls to help us get started and determine which controls and libraries you want included in the windows store version of the launcher. we would like to include the xna controls as well as the steam controller if possible. the xna game studio supports windows 8 and windows phone. in fact the latest version of the xna game studio supports windows 8 even though the windows store version of the xna game studio only supports windows 8. to fix this issue we are creating a windows 8 version of the xna game studio which will be available in a future update. this update contains lots of fixes and improvements. we worked on the new vehicles, airplanes and buildings added in the latest realflight releases. the new vehicles include the new helicopter, chinook, the faster speedboats, the stealthy avenger and the hovercraft. the new airplanes include the mirage, the apache, the reaper, the f-16, the f-14, the blackhawk, the p-51 and the c-130. the new buildings include the warehouse, the bunker and the submarine. added a couple of new objects such as the billboard, a bridge and more. you will find these new objects in many familiar places. the mirage, the apache, the reaper, the blackhawk, the f-16, the f-14, the c-130 and the c-17 are fully configured with their instruments. they are fully functioning with their sounds, lights and cameras.
