The revelation was made by the DCP of the Rudraprayag police when he appeared before the media. He said that the symptoms of poisoning by a lethal substance exhibited in the case were similar to those of poisoning by a substance known as "Somras". Somras is a homeopathic concoction used mainly for a variety of ailments like tuberculosis, flatulence, joint pains, etc. It is a well-known fact that it has been banned and its sale is illegal in the country. Besides the state government, Union government is also making efforts to ban it. Speaking at the press meet, the DCP explained that the three members of a family were poisoned with "Somras" and were then killed by their own son. He added that when the investigators went to the house, they found enough evidence of the same. The murder of the family was hidden by the body's decomposition and the strange nature of the murders. They also found that the family's "Somras" was not manufactured at a registered chemical factory, which is a violation of the law, and added that the chemical factory's employees face capital punishment. The DCP also revealed that they found two chemical factories that manufactured poison with similar ingredients, indicating that more such chemical factories are operating illegally. The DCP said that they have already identified the son, the son's friends, and the connections of the chemical factory owners and that it is their duty to apprehend the main accused and bring him to justice. In his concluding remarks, the DCP said that he will leave no stone unturned to nab the accused.Q: DateTime.Parse(....) returns null I have an MS Access Database with a time stamp field: DateTime Now I want to open the database and get the value of the column. Everything was fine until I tried to parse it: DateTime dateTime; dateTime = DateTime.Parse(QN.TimeStamp); Guid timeStamp = new Guid(); TimeSpan newTimeSpan = DateTime.Now - dateTime.ToUniversalTime(); MessageBox.Show("newTimeSpan: " + newTimeSpan); dateTime = new DateTime(newTimeSpan.Ticks); Now, the line with the dateTime = DateTime.Parse(QN.TimeStamp); returns null and newTimeSpan is beeing displayed as a time span of 1 sec when I use this code: MessageBox.

Webcam Video Broadcast software is the main tool for webcasting live video, live video is also used for live streaming, while video streaming is used for on-demand or delivery mode of live video. These functions are used to provide a better platform for the user to enjoy video communication and to share various topics for education, entertainment and advertisement And so, if you are wondering how to make a video game available to thousands of people, an online forum could be the best choice. You will be able to add/delete comments to the post that you are replying to, and you can even hide posts that are not relevant to the post you are writing Both of these websites are run by the same company, Internet Brands. The company owns and operates some of the most popular websites on the Internet today The company specialises in hosting and online advertising, having bought a string of web hosting companies in the past few years. The first site was acquired in 2002, and has now grown to over 800,000 pages of content. The other site is acquired in 2004 and the company now has over 1 million pages. Thanks! The new modules were added to get around the problem of the previous mods not supporting the current path where save editor/templates are located The problem is caused by an edit conflict in the main files. The edit conflict is between the autogenerated path to the savestate editor and the set path specified in the editor.clw. 5ec8ef588b
